Workshop Description— Students will have the opportunity to paint from nature, just like the great masters Claude Monet, Georgia O’Keeffe, and Vincent Van Gogh. There will be painting activities offered both inside and outside in different locations each day, right on the grounds of the Plymouth Arts Center. In this class, the beauty of nature will be the guide and children will have fun exploring their creativity using a variety of paint media. Don’t wait, register today!

About the Instructor—Judy Sizonen recently retired from teaching art in the Sheboygan Area School District for close to 20 years. She is an expert in painting, drawing, and black and white photography. She especially loves to help young people develop an understanding of art concepts and their own creativity. Under Judy’s gentle guidance, your child will explore self-expression and come to understand how art can help them learn about and care for the surrounding world.
